Egghead Productions

Ingram joins EggHead Productions; Rocklin, CA (02/01/10)

Los Angeles based production veteran, Shaun Ingram, joins forces with Egghead Productions out of Rocklin, CA. With a strong background in Commercial and Music Video production, Ingram brings 11 years of screenwriting, assistant directing, directing and producing to the Egghead's development team. Ingram will head up the creative development and physical production of the New Media Department, primarily focusing on Branded, Image Entertainment.

"Northern California has been under rated when it comes to production value for years. I'm hoping to bring more production up this way and take advantage of all the incentives. Egghead is on the forefront of production and I'm looking forward to pioneering this new form of Entertainment with them." said Ingram

Bill Murphy, President of Egghead said: "We are extremely excited to have someone of Shaun's caliber on our team. I am looking forward to see Shaun both raise our production value and help us exploit the future direction of entertainment industry."

About Egghead Productions: Egghead Productions is Northern California's leading video production company. Egghead's Award Winning producers develop a wide range of video projects including national and regional TV commercials, infomercials, education, training, product and event videos.
